It is an old fully rebuilt house in 2012 with capacity for 15 places and 5 extra ones. Somebody will think that the name is a bit original "Casa El Trujal". Of course, it is located in the "Square El Trujar de Funes". But, Did you know that in the past in this square an oil mill was found? Of course then there was not any houses in this place. Well, so during the rebuilding of the house two proves appeared which confirm the existence of this oil mill. The first one is a part of an oil press (I will explain you later how these press were more than 200 years ago). The other one is a stone of mill which was used for grind the olives before press it. The two proofs are visible inside the house, and they are which have encouraged us to name the house.
